Lancaster Farmland Trust Takes Precautions Against COVID-19 Risk

For immediate release: March 13, 2020

Contact: Laura Brenner, LBrenner@lancasterfarmlandtrust.org

As the prevalence of Corona Virus (COVID-19) spreads in Pennsylvania, Lancaster County remains on high alert. Lancaster Farmland Trust is monitoring this ever-changing situation closely and is being proactive in maintaining the safety of our staff, landowners, donors, and the community at large.

Our office continues to operate as usual, and we are committed to continuing to serve our farmers and the community to the highest degree possible. Our leadership team remains vigilant in monitoring changes and following recommendations from the World Health Organization (WHO), U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the Pennsylvania Department of Health, and our local health authorities.

Beginning today we will halt any volunteer activities and employ additional safeguards for interactions with our Board, landowners, and community. We are informing our staff of any necessary precautions to keep themselves safe. Our staff is capable of working remotely, from home, should our office need to close. If this occurs, our team will have access to email, as well as voicemails left on our main answering machine.

We will continue to monitor this rapidly unfolding situation and communicate any changes to our work environment by email. Please don't hesitate to contact our office by phone, 717-687-8484, or by email, info@lancasterfarmlandtrust.org, if you have any questions, comments, or concerns.

Thank you for your continued support of our mission.
